SERVICES

Every year millions of Americans travel to international destinations that are quite different from the United States. Whether your trip is for business or pleasure, it is important to stay healthy when traveling abroad since medical care may not be available or of similar standards to which you are accustomed.

Most vaccines require several weeks to develop protective levels after they are administered. Thus, it is best to plan international trips well in advance and seek medical consultation early to determine which vaccines and/or precautions may be necessary to keep you healthy while traveling.

To help you enjoy your experience during your travel, please contact the expert staff of Corporate Health Services at Palomar Pomerado Health. We will help you plan and address the specific health concerns associated with your destination. The services we offer:
